

Encuentro de Profesores de Inglés – Cooperative Learning

<https://blogs.sas.com/content/sascom/2012/07/23/best-practice-10-publicize-the-system/>

It is crucial for teachers to brush up their teaching skills and receive occasionally a language methodology refresher. This forum will be a two-days training programme for teachers of English, which will cover a broad span of teaching ideas, activities and games, to make lessons more motivating.

Furthermore, teachers will get to know a method of teaching and learning, where students work together in teams, solving a problem, completing a task or creating a product: Cooperative Learning. Participants will receive a great variety of activities on group working. To activate pupils is a crucial aspect for successful teaching. This forum was especially designed for English teachers, and aims on teachers who like to refresh their teaching methodologies for successful teaching. Participants will have the opportunity to share their best-practice examples and how to deal in different classroom situations with their colleagues. Participants of this new forum will receive new insights and ideas about teaching methodologies and understanding teaching foreign languages as a result and process-oriented profession.

Encuentro de Profesores de Inglés – Cooperative Learning (16 hrs)

In this forum for English teachers we will focus on different and new activities and games to motivate our students and to improve the process of acquiring a new language. Through games students develop various skills such as critical thinking, teamwork, creativity and they learn how to interact and communicate. Learning a language requires a great deal of effort which can be smoothed by playing and having fun.

During this forum we will discuss, present and analyze various methods of Cooperative Learning. How can we build trust in our learners? How can we bring students into a positive mindset for learning? How can we motivate students to work in groups? We will also share different websites which are very useful and interesting for language teachers. Besides, we will share our own best-practice examples with other participants. There will also be an instance of sharing information about each English Department in the different schools and have an enriching feedback.
